

Guidance

Education

Support

Responding to Autism is dedicated to providing the best practices for treatment of families, children, and adults with Autism Spectrum Disorder. With over 20 years of experience in the field, specializing in autism interventions, parent guidance, and professional training, we bring an understanding of the many obstacles encountered, support needed, and joy that can come from teaching or having a child with special needs.

We believe that every human being is born with the drive for continued growth and competence. Somewhere along the line, autism camouflages or covers this drive with obstacles, but it never truly disappears. We know that providing the proper education, guidance, and support, parents, grandparents and teachers can provide a person on the autism spectrum with the cognitive, emotional, and social tools needed to obtain a high quality of life.

Services & Programs

- Autism Screenings
- Social Skill Classes
- Early Intervention
- Lego Social Groups
- Support Groups
- Behavioral Programs & Support
- Transition Services
- Navigating Autism in Adulthood
- Functional Behavioral Assessments & Behavioral Support Plans
- Classroom Consultation & Training
- Parenting Classes
- Family Socials & Community Events
- Relationship Development Intervention
- Educational Workshops for Parents and Professionals
- Community/Agency Presentations
- Resource Coordination & Referral

We have services and programs for toddlers through adulthood. We also provide services for siblings, caregivers, educators, professionals, and more.

Education & Training

We provide education and training to parents, teachers, students, and community agencies through seminars, trainings, and workshops. We equip parents and professionals with early identification, understanding autism, practical help for challenging behaviors, and putting into practice methods for treating autism at home or at school.

Eligibility

We do not require a medical diagnosis of autism to take part in our services and programs. Contact us with any program questions or to schedule an appointment.

Initial consultations and resource appointments are free.

A Place for Hope.

Place for Kids & Adults: We strive to see every person reach their full potential and highest quality of life.

Place for Families: We aspire to connect families together for guidance, education and support. We empower every member of the family with confidence and skills to enhance their daily lives.

Place for Professionals: We support, train, educate, network, and contract with schools, professionals and community agencies.

Contact Information

4206 W 24th Ave B101
Kennewick, WA 99338

Phone: 509-396-9230
Fax: 509-931-0881

Email: info@respondingtoautism.net

Responding to Autism Center

www.respondingtoautism.net

The Responding to Autism Center is funded in large part by a continuing grant from the Carson Kolzig Foundation. Both entities have a shared vision of the Center being the cornerstone in the community where families can come for guidance, education, support, training, and comprehensive and affordable services.

www.respondingtoautism.net